Download the ArriveCAN mobile app and complete mandatory information digitally to reduce wait times and limit points of contact. Learn more. If you're arriving at Pearson on an international flight, you can use a primary inspection kiosk (PIK) to confirm your identity and submit your customs declaration. Up to five travellers living in the same country can use a kiosk together. How to use the PIK Scan your travel document (for example: passport or permanent resident card) Take your kiosk receipt to a border services officer Look for one of our representatives if you need help using the kiosk. Who cannot use the kiosks? The following travellers with a non-machine-readable travel document Travellers with the non-machine-readable travellers with the non-machine-readabl Travellers requiring special services NEXUS member, you can choose to use the dedicated NEXUS member, you can choose to use the special services counter for in-person processing. Before you book your flight to Pearson Airport, check to see if you need a visa or an eTA to visit or transit through Canada. Find out if you need a visa Save time by using Advanced CBSA Declaration declaration declaration. This can be done up to 72 hours in advance of flying to save you time when you arrive at the airport. The declaration is an optional feature built into the online version of ArriveCAN (not the mobile app). All travellers arriving in Canada must continue to use Advanced CBSA Declaration After entering your mandatory travel and health information in ArriveCAN online, follow the prompt on your receipt page. To complete an Advance CBSA Declaration for your self or your group before your trip; confirm travel document information answer the customs and immigration guestions truthfully send the declaration within 72 hours of arriving in Canada You will receive confirmation of your Advance CBSA Declaration, including your reference number, by email. When your flight lands: scan your travel document(s) at the airport kiosk (note a maximum of 5 travellers can use one kiosk at a time) the kiosk will pull up your reference number and declaration information review, certify and submit your declaration take the kiosk receipt to a border services officer for further processing We encourage passengers arriving in Canada by air to use the Advance CBSA Declaration, which is part of our traveller modernization initiative. Clearing customs There are detailed rules about what you may bring into Canada, both as a foreign traveller or a returning citizen. Some items may be subject to duty, taxes or restrictions, or even prohibited. NEXUS members can enter Canada using the NEXUS self-serve kiosks at designated airports, regardless of where they are coming from. For example, a member returning to Canada from overseas and arriving in Montréal can use a NEXUS kiosk in Montréal. NEXUS members do not need to complete a paper CBSA Declaration Card (Form E311) when using a self-serve kiosk at any Canadian airport where NEXUS is available. Remember: before your next trip, please make sure that your NEXUS members cannot go with you through a NEXUS kiosk, regardless of age if you are crossing the border in the air, land or marine modes of transportation with currency or monetary instruments valued at Can$10,000 or more, you cannot use NEXUS members who are also Mexican nationals need an Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA) when flying to or transiting through Canada by air. U.S. and Canadian citizens and permanent residents are exempted from the eTA requirement, although U.S and Canadian permanent residence status. Be prepared: Apply for an eTA before you book your flight to Canada By commercial aircraft, you will receive a Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) Declaration Card to complete before you land. These cards are also used at some locations for travellers arriving by train, boat or bus. If you have any questions about the card or Canadian regulations, please ask the border services officer when you arrive. If you arrive in Canada in a private vehicle, such as an automobile, an aircraft, a boat or a bus, you can usually make an oral declaration. If you are declaring goods claimed as part of your 7 day/CAN$800 exemption that arrived in Canada before you or will arrive after your return to Canada, ask the border services officer for a BSF192, Personal Exemption CBSA Declaration. You will need your copy of this form to claim these goods. Otherwise, you may have to pay the regular duty and taxes on them. The form will only be completed by a border services officer at the CBSA port of entry. This form is not available online. If you arrive at selected international airports, you can make an on screen declaration using a Primary Inspection Kiosk. Scan your travel document, take your photo and answer a few questions to complete your declaration. And if you use our eDeclaration mobile app, you can reduce your processing time at the kiosks, you will receive a Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) Declaration Card to complete before you land. If you have any questions about your declaration, ask the border services officer when you arrive. False declarations and the seizure of goods and the circumstances involved, the CBSA may impose a penalty that ranges from 25% to 80% of the value of the seized goods. The Customs Act provides border services officers with the authority to seize vehicle is returned to you. If you do not declare tobacco products and alcoholic beverages at the time they were imported, the CBSA will seize them permanently. The CBSA keeps a record of infractions. If you have an infraction record, you may have to undergo a more detailed examination on future trips. You may also become ineligible for the NEXUS and CANPASS - Private aircraft programs. If your goods were seized and you wish to dispute the action, you can appeal by writing a letter to the CBSA within 90 days of the date of the seizure. You can find more information about the appeal process on your seizure receipt form. Public health If you are suffering from a communicable disease upon your return to Canada, or if you have been in close contact with someone with a communicable disease while out of the country, you are obligated to inform a border services officer or a quarantine officer who can determine if you require further assessment. If you have been in close contact with someone with a communicable disease while out of the country, you are obligated to inform a border services officer or a quarantine officer who can determine if you require further assessment. abroad, where you were and what, if any, treatment or medical care you have received (e.g., medications, blood transfusions, injections, dental care or surgery). Protecting your valuables Before bringing highly valuable items with you when you travel outside Canada, you may wish to take advantage of a free identification service that is available at all CBSA offices. This service is available for items that have serial numbers or other unique markings, the CBSA can apply a sticker to them so that they can be identified for customs purposes as goods that are legally entering Canada. When you show your valuables to a border services officer and state that you acquired them in Canada or lawfully imported them, the officer will list the valuables and their serial numbers on a wallet-sized card called a BSF407, Identification of Articles for Temporary Exportation. This form is only available at the port of entry. If you are questioned about your goods when you return to Canada, show your card to the officer. This will help identify the valuables that were in your possession before leaving the country. Modifying an item outside of Canada and change it in any way to enhance its condition or value, the CBSA does not consider it to be the same item when you bring it back into the country. You therefore have to declare the full value of the new item. Example: You take an old diamond ring with you on a trip outside of Canada, While outside ou processing. When you return to Canada, the original ring, which is now just a metal setting with no stone, will be considered to be a returning good because it has not been advanced in value. (In fact, it has decreased in value.) The new ring will be considered to be a new item and therefore must be declared accordingly, even though it contains part of the original ring (i.e., the diamond) that originated in Canada. The CBSA will treat the new ring like any other piece of jewellery purchased outside the country and the diamond that was exported from Canada. This rule applies unless you have received previous authorization from the CBSA to have the new ring made while outside the country. Biosecurity at the border: food, plants, animals and related products Every travellers are unaware of the hazards in failing to declare food, plant and animal products, but the risks to Canada's food supply, economy, environment and human health are very real. They threaten our food supply. They threaten our food supply, economy, environment and natural resources. Report a problem on this page You will not receive a reply. For enquiries, please contact us.
